Practically an icon in his native country, India-born Ustad Rashid Khan has helped ensure the future of Hindustani Vocal Music (also known as Gurukul). This classical Indian technique has a rich history, having developed a strong, diverse style through several centuries. Rashid Khan is said to have an emotional, even awe-inspiring impact on his audience. With uncannily beautiful vocals accompanied by haunting string instruments, Gurukul is also considered a spiritual system in both the Eastern and Western traditions. Ustad Rashid Khan is welcomed to the Hindu Cultural Center on Friday (June 24) by local Indian music and dance organization TRIVENI, beginning at 7:30pm.

It looks like The Motorpsychos are primed to rule the metal scene in their home town of Pittsburgh, and after a listen to the group's latest CD, Piston Whipped, it sounds like they might be ready to rule the national scene, too. The punk-infused rhythms, harsh lyrics, and fast and furious guitar work all go to show why they've been winning battle after battle in Pittsburgh's heavy metal wars. Last year, the group were the winners of Pittsburgh's Rolling Rock Hard & Heavy Rock Challenge. This year, they dominated at K-Rock, Hard Rock Winter Rock Challenge, competing against over 100 other bands. Motorpsychos play the Mohawk Place on Friday (June 24) at 11pm with The Trailerpark Tornados, The Bayonettes and Box Special. Be sure to practice your devil's horn finger salute and bring some earplugs.
